

Mindblower Limited Warranty and Disclaimer

Mindblower warrants and agrees that all products and components shall be free from material defect when received by the initial purchaser. If, upon initial receipt of the product and components, the purchaser discovers a material defect, the purchaser should return the defective product or component to Mindblower with an explanation of the nature of the defect and directions as to where any replacement part should be shipped. Mindblower will inspect the product and/or component and, if the defect is consistent with that described by the purchaser and, in the sole discretion of Mindblower, the defect was not caused by any conduct of the purchaser or any other third party, Mindblower will replace the defective product and/or component and ship the same to the address provided by the purchaser.

Any claim of material defect made hereunder, must be made within 20 days from the date that the Mindblower is delivered to the purchaser.

Mindblower expressly disclaims any warranty or guarantee regarding the performance of the Mindblower once installed by the purchaser or any third party.

Mindblower expressly disclaims any warranty or guarantee regarding the effect of the Mindblower on the performance of the purchaser's vehicle.

Mindblower expressly disclaims any responsibility for damages to the product or components caused during the installation of the Mindblower by the purchaser or any third party.

Mindblower expressly disclaims any responsibility for damages to the purchaser's vehicle as a result of the installation of the Mindblower or the operation of the Mindblower on the purchaser's vehicle.

Mindblower expressly disclaims any responsibility for harm, economic, or otherwise, to the purchaser or any third party if there is any alteration of the product or components from their initial condition.

The warranty herein shall run exclusively to the purchaser. If the product is resold or given to any individual or entity other than the purchaser, Mindblower expressly disclaims any warranty or guarantee whatsoever. Mindblower makes no warranties, expressed or implied, other than those described above.